WIRE - ELECTRICAL CABLES

FUTRON also supplies a wide range of wires used in wire harness manufacturing, catering to various industries including automotive, electronics, and industrial applications. In addition to major brands, we provide tailored wire solutions based on your specifications.

Our strong sourcing network allows us to offer competitive pricing, fast lead times, and reliable quality to support your production needs.

We understand that UL, CSA, and RoHS certifications are critical when it comes to wire selection for harness assembly.

These standards ensure product safety, quality, and environmental compliance, which is why we prioritize sourcing wires that meet these requirements—giving our customers peace of mind and smooth approval in their production and export processes.

FUTRON

FUTRON started as a wire harness raw material supplier. Since then, FUTRON has expanded to all kinds of electronics components including semiconductors, IC chips, cable wires etc. to best serve our customers needs.

FUTRON currently has more than 300 customers across the SouthEast Asia. FUTRON expertise is in LEAD TIME, EX-STOCK and bidding projects.

In supply chain, every connection counts – from raw materials to delivery, excellence is in the details we deliver.
